A Tale of Two Tax Plans

The 2014 Tax Debate in the MO General Assembly

In 2013, the General Assembly passed a tax cut bill that Gov. Nixon vetoed, and his veto was sustained last September. Now the debate about whether to cut taxes in Missouri is heating up again. Come learn about two very different tax proposals and how their proponents believe they would change household budgets and state budgets. A Q & A session will follow the panel presentation. Light refreshments will be served. Free admission. Open to the public.

Panel Featuring

Rep. T.J. Berry, R-District 38

Rep. Judy Morgan, D-District 24

Jeanette Mott Oxford, Director, MO Assn for Social Welfare
Ray McCarty, President, Associated Industries of Missouri
